

Customer Check-In 3:

In order to develop a responsive and interactive prototype, we created a High-Fidelity Prototype during this week's Activity session.

Below are the excellent feedbacks we received from the clients/customers.

- The logo is intuitive but would look better if the colours matched with the SDGs.
- Additionally, the logo is better suited to be placed at the top corner of the header and footer.
- The visuals do not necessarily have to look complex, a simple yet informative site is better suited.
- The side-bar could use an animation that retracts it once the mouse cursor is away, instead of having to click on the retract arrow.
- Alternative to the side-bar would be making the side-bar options compact and visible at the top of the screen.
- The data page is well presented and having options for comparison as well as different graph types is a good idea.
- Homepage would be better if the first few things the users see isn't just a Welcome message, but a way for them to know that it focuses on Regina.

As a result of our discussions with clients/customers, we were able to pinpoint the issues with our prototype, mostly navigation issues, improvements that could be made, and some additional ideas that we can incorporate as we finalize the website for the upcoming weeks
